WITH A PISTOL.

Emerson Roper Destroys His Life at Sebree City.

Shot Himself In The Head While
Alone In His Room—No
Cause Known.

Emerson Roper, youngest son of Mrs. I. H. Roper, of this city, a well known young printer who had worked in the Hopkinsville offices for ten years, committed suicide at Sebree, where he had been living for six months, Wednesday night, shooting himself in the head. The young man had been dependent for some time. Further than his low spirits, no cause is known for the tragic deed.

Young Roper learned the printer's trade in the KENTUCKIAN office ten years ago and later held a position in the job department of another local office, which he resigned last November to go to Sebree and go into business with his brother, Rhoden P. Roper. The brothers accordingly purchased the Sebree Herald and had been making a success of the paper for the last six months.

Wednesday night Rhoden Roper left their room in the Herald office and went to prayer-meeting. This was about 8 o'clock and Emerson was in the office and there was nothing to indicate that he contemplated suicide. His brother returned about nine o'clock and heard labored breathing in the bed-room, adjoining the office. He took the lamp and went into the room to investigate and found Emerson lying on the bed in a dying condition. He had his clothes on, his head was on the pillow and his feet hanging over the side of the bed. He was dying from a pistol wound in the right side of his head and never regained consciousness, though he lived until about ten o'clock. The pistol, a 32 calibre, single action weapon, with two barrels empty, was lying on the floor. One ball went wild and made a hole through Rhoden's coat and vest hanging on the bed post. Two or three parties afterwards remembered that they had heard two shots shortly after eight o'clock. As the pistol had to be cocked, the first shot must have missed his head.

The young man's body was brought to this city on the early morning train and the funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. J. G. Hord at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Hord's wife is a sister of the Roper boys, of whom four remain.

Emerson was born in September 1874, and was in his 25th year. He was a handsome, manly young fellow, quiet and unobtrusive in his manners, and an industrious, capable workman. He was moral in his habits, steady even as a boy, and had never been out of employment. Why such a young man should have taken his own life is a mystery.

Several young men from Sebree accompanied the remains to this city, with his brother, Henry Roper, of Elkton, Jas. P. Roper and Ellis H. Roper, of this city, his surviving brothers, were all present at the funeral.

UNDER TWO INDICTMENTS

Defendant Arrested in Hopkins
County and Lodged in Jail.

Jackson Cotton, was arrested in Hopkins county Wednesday on a bench warrant and brought here by Deputy Sheriff K. D. Rodgers yesterday. Cotton was put in jail. In October 1897 two indictments were found against him in the Christian Circuit Court, one for carrying a concealed deadly weapon and the other for a breach of peace. He will be tried at the June term of Court.

A two-year-old child of Mr. Albert Croft, of near Gracely, died Wednesday night, after an illness of several weeks.

WITH A RIFLE.

James E. Jones Ends His Secret
Troubles Wednesday.

Was to Have Been Married In a
Few Days to Miss
Holt.

Crofton, Ky., April 26.—Mr. Mr. James E. Jones, a well-to-do farmer living about a mile and a half from Era post-office, committed suicide this morning about 7 o'clock by shooting himself in the left side and through the heart with a rifle gun. He was 38 years old, a widower with three children, the oldest a boy 18 years old. His wife died last September. He wrote a note on the back of an envelope as follows: "Farewell to my children, I must go, Willie save the money in your pocket to raise your little sisters."

This note with $154.15 he put in his son's pants' pocket this morning before the boy woke up. When his son put on his pants he found the money and note in his pocket and read the note and gave it and money back to his father. His father replied that "if that pistol had not snapped this morning about 4 o'clock I would have been gone now." About this time he picked up the pistol and walked out of the room on the porch. His son followed him and took the pistol from his father and took the cartridges out of the chamber. He told his son that he "had to go." After this he sent his son to the field to plow and Mr. Jones went over to a neighbor's close by, then went back home and placing the muzzle of the gun to his left side pushed the trigger with the gunstick. Death was instantaneous.

Funeral Thursday at 11 o'clock by Dr. W. E. McCord. He was a member of the Masonic order and was buried by that order. The coroner was notified and went out to hold an inquest. No cause is known. He was to have been married again in a short time to a Miss Holt, a daughter of Thos. Holt.

The Coroner's Inquest.

"We the jury summoned by Jas. L. Allenworth, coroner of Christian county, find that Jas. E. Jones came to his death from a shot from a gun in his own hands, near the heart." The verdict detailed some of the above facts and was signed by T. W. Holt, J. E. Canler, J. E. Canler, J. H. Keys, J. W. Reynolds, J. J. Clark and R. B. Clark.

DROPPED DEAD.

Ex-Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, Who Was Born in Kentucky.

Lincoln, Ill., April 24.—Former Gov. Richard J. Oglesby fell dead near this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon. He had been in ill health for some time, but the end was unexpected.

Gov. Oglesby was born in Kentucky in 1834, and migrated to Illinois in 1836. He was admitted to the bar in 1845. He served in the Mexican and civil wars, rising to the rank of major general. He served two terms as governor of Illinois, and served one term in the United States senate.

The immediate cause of Gen. Oglesby's death was a fall, his head striking the sharp edge of a piece of furniture. The remote cause was vertigo.

SHOT IN THE SIDE.

Scrap Near Casky May Result In Death of Participant.

A difficulty is reported to have occurred near Casky a few nights ago. Full particulars could not be learned. Two colored men, Lewis Leavell and Ben McReynolds, it seems engaged in a row and the latter was shot in the side. The wound is a very serious one.

FIRM STAND

Made by the Filipinos at Their Capital City.

Americans Held at Bay and Three More Soldiers
Slain.

Manila, April 27.—Maj. Gen. MacArthur has not yet taken Calumpit. The rebels are employing artillery and are making a good stand. There was much firing yesterday, but the Americans have made little headway, other than to get artillery across the river which flows in front of the town. Sharpshooters have proved annoying. The expedition of Maj. Gen. Lawton makes slow progress, on account of the difficult character of the country. The casualties yesterday were 3 killed and 11 wounded.

HAMILTON EASY.

Last Railroad Convention Held at Winchester.

Winchester, April 27.—The Democratic convention in the Third railroad district was held at Winchester yesterday. The Goebel men were in control, but the expected fight on State issues was not made, and the platform simply indorsed Bryan and the Chicago platform. Col. A. W. Hamilton was nominated for Railroad Commissioner, and in his speech of acceptance expressed the belief that he would win at the general election in November.

Attacked on the Train.

Mrs. W. F. Cox, of Gracely, was taken very ill on the train, while enroute to this city Wednesday. On arrival here she was taken to Mr. Byron Torian's and a physician summoned. She was suffering with bilious colic and was able to return home on the late afternoon train.

CHARLIE SOMMERS.

Up Against it in His Bribery
Case at Frankfort.

Must Face a Jury and the Prosecution is Making a Strong Case.

Frankfort, Ky., April 27.—The trial of Charles E. Sommers, of Haradin county, for alleged bribery, was begun in the Franklin Circuit Court before a jury yesterday after a vain struggle of two hours by the attorneys for the defendant to demur the indictment out of court, or to at least postpone the trial of it until the next term of court.

The prosecution of the case is being conducted by Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin and County Attorney Polsgrove, the defendant being represented by former Senator Jo. Blackburn and ex-Chief Justice W. S. Pryor. Arguments were made on the demurrer by Blackburn, Pryor and Franklin, the Judge sustaining the latter's contention in an oral opinion and ordering a jury trial of the case.

The Commonwealth sprung a sensation in announcing ready for trial by announcing a long list of new witnesses not on the indictment, chief among whom was John H. Whallen, the Alexander manager in the recent convention. Others were June W. Gayle, of Owen county; President E. L. Samuels, Cashier Henry Lindsay and Clerk Craik Jackson, of the branch Bank of Kentucky, and Jake Riddle, James Hulet and Willis Rogers. It will, so it is said, be shown by the bank officers that certain Louisville politicians drew money from that bank on the day of the alleged bribery, and that the money was paid in $50 bills. The bills paid to Graves were of that denomination.

Students of the Illinois State University at Champaign hanged and burned Gov. Tanner in effigy for vetoing a bill making an appropriation for the College. The dummy was first hanged to a limb and then cut down and consumed in a fire beneath.

Editor Dick Knott has been called down on one of his reckless statements and was this week defendant in a criminal libel case at Louisville. There are few public men in the state who have not been libeled by the Post and the tears shed over Editor Knott's troubles would not moisten a postage stamp.

The Gazette, a Republican paper at Marion, announces Judge Crifton J. Pratt, of Madisonville, as a candidate for Governor, subject to the action of the Lexington convention July 12. There is no doubt that Judge Pratt would prove a strong candidate, as he belongs to a class of Republicans several grades above the Bill Taylor kind in brains and character.

Judge Barker dismissed the indictment for criminal libel against editor Dick Knott. The editorial for which he was indicted was as follows:

"The combine is making a raid upon the city treasury, backed by the Mayor and the members of the Board of Works. The Evening Post regrets to see Mr. Jefferson in such disreputable company."

The Georgetown Times shows a strong leaning towards Stone and gives space to the off-exploded story, credited to Jno. D. Carroll, that Goebel was "a pronounced gold man" in 1896 and was beaten by Maj. Johnston for Chairman of the State Committee on that account. The thirteen Democrats who served on the Permanent Organization committee will bear witness to the fact that Maj. Johnston's election was unanimous and that Goebel's election was also without opposition of any consequence. He was placed on one committee and the convention to show its entire confidence went forward and put him on both committees.

Maj. W. W. Thomas, of Palmetto, Ga., who pleaded for the life of the colored preacher, Strickland, was game to the core. After the mob had started away with Strickland a messenger was sent to advise Maj. Thomas to leave Palmetto for his own good, but the old gentleman was not frightened. He drew himself up and said emphatically: "I have never before been ordered to leave a town, and I am not going to leave this one." And then the major, uplifting his hand to give his words force said to the messenger: "Tell them that the muscles in my legs are not trained to running. Tell them that I hate the sound of the fire and heard the whistle of the minutes from a thousand Yankee rifles, and I am not frightened by this crowd." Maj. Thomas was

The latest Georgia lynching is the worst that has occurred in recent years. It surpasses the Paris, Texas, affair of a few years ago, when a rapist was burned at the stake. This time the victim was subjected to the most horrible tortures and mutilations before being roasted in a slow fire. Afterwards the charred carcass was chopped into bits and distributed as souvenirs. The dying negro implicated a colored preacher in the murder that preceded his more fiendish crime, and on his testimony alone the mob hunted up the preacher and hanged him, although his employer, a man of the highest character and courage, pleaded for the man's life, declaring that the negro was innocent and begging for delay enough to hold an investigation. But the mob was mad for blood and would listen to nothing. At last accounts the people of an entire county were defying law and declaring that they would put to death all negroes who sympathized with the victims. Incidents of this sort are a disgrace to our civilization and horrify the whole country, but they teach a fearful lesson. The crime of rape must be stopped. On this subject public sentiment is the same in the North and the South. The people will not put up with the usual slow processes of law. They demand the speedy punishment of the guilty parties. In the South where the masses are more courageous, the people do not hesitate to take the law into their own hands, and since plain hangings have not stopped the growing evil they are liable to follow the barbarous instincts of their ancestors in inventing new features to make death horrible to survivors, who may become criminals. The law will have to be changed compelling the speedy trial of the rapist. If it was made imperative that a special grand jury should be empaneled, a court called to try the case at once, and in case of conviction the immediate execution of the rapist to follow then and there, the people would have more respect for the law. But as long as the law is powerless to punish promptly, the people will take the law into their own hands. It is useless to talk about the shocking features of the executions. The remedy is to stop the evil itself. Then lynchings will cease and not until then.

Dr. Jos. Parker, a London preacher, roared the Prince of Wales in a sermon and was cheered by the audience. He referred to him as "a certain card playing Prince" and said: "When the Prince falls, then let the country mourn. We look to princes for noble deeds and a high example. When I see my Prince and my Premier on the race-course, I don't like it." These remarks were cheered by the audience, and Dr. Parker proceeded to make a rabid attack on the Sultan of Turkey.

The State convention that meets in June can do nothing better in the way of a platform than to simply endorse the Chicago principles. Anything outside of that will be suicidal—Guthrie Graphic.

The State convention cannot afford to pursue a cowardly course on State issues. A State platform must be adopted. The national election comes off next year.

Music lovers will have an opportunity of hearing some of the greatest artists of Europe and America at the Louisville May Festival on May 8, 9 and 10. No expense has been spared to make the five concerts of the festival as attractive as possible.

MAY FORECASTS.

Weather For the Month Embra-ces That of All Seasons.

Hicks sums up the weather for May as follows:

A marked low barometer with rising temperature, ending in storms of wind, thunder and rain, may naturally be looked for in most sections on one or more of the four first days of May. Change to much cooler weather will follow these disturbances and last for two or three days. From the 7th to 9th look for reaction to very much warmer, with falling barometer and more storms of rain, hail and thunder in many localities. One or two nights of probable frost will result in latitudes northward, about the 9th and 10th, but marked change to warmer will quickly return. A regular storm period is central on the 12th, covering the 11th to 15th. This period will develop a very high temperature for the season over most of the country. The barometer will be depressed generally, and some wide-reaching storms will appear on and touching the 12th to 14th. A reactionary disturbance centers on the 17th and 18th. More marked storm conditions will develop at this time, and Moon being on the equator on the 19th, the warm wave and electrical storms will hardly reach their crisis, or subside, before the date. Very cool weather comes immediately on the heels of electrical storm, during the last half of May. The temperature will fall low enough for snow squalls in the north, with heavy frosts at night. Marked hail storms are notable during the Venus periods. May ends much warmer and threatening. The Venus period will culminate in June.

PRETTY ROMANCE ENDED.

Lieut. Sisson, Killed at Manila. Left an Inconsolable Sweet-heart in Nebraska.

Columbus, Neb., April 25.—The death of Lieut. Lester E. Sisson, of the First Nebraska, at Manila, and the finding of his fiancée's photograph near his heart, where the fatal bullet entered, is the final chapter in a pretty romance, whose introduction was written in this village several years ago.

The photograph is the likeness of Miss Anna Taylor, one of the belles of Columbus. She is the youngest daughter of John F. Taylor, a wholesale lumber merchant and a distinguished citizen of Nebraska. To-day the young girl is inconsolable, and her grief is pathetic to witness. She is at the residence of her parents, and none but the most intimate friends of the family are admitted. The fiancée of the dead soldier has not been known publicly as the betrothed of the dashing Lieutenant, although their attachment was generally understood throughout Columbus and the mutual friends knew of the engagement.

MAJOR MEANS.

A Hopkinsville Boy's Strong Hold on an Illinois Town.

The city election Tuesday was one of the most hotly contested elections held here in years. As much interest as more, was displayed than at the presidential election. Almost every vote in the city was polled. The principal contest was over the mayorality race, and the interest in this fight overshadowed all others. Mayor J. W. Means, the present incumbent, sought reelection to the office he has held the past two years. A good deal of dissatisfaction with the present administration was expressed and G. Van Hoorbecke was selected to oppose Means. The desire of both factions to succeed was so strong that every effort was made to sway the vote. Means carried the First ward by 14 majority and the Third ward by 9. Van Hoorbecke received a majority of 20 in the Second ward. Means' majority in the city was therefore three. Below is the vote:

J. W. Means, 213; G. Van Hoorbecke, 210.—Carlyle, Ill., Constitution.
